DISMISS CASE
AGAINST YOUTHS
IN CHURCH CASE

"Burning Bush" Scandal Aired
in Mandan Justice Court—
Charges Not Sustained

PUT UNDER PEACE BONDS

Husband Who Left Wife Says
He Saved His Own Soul
Through Desertion

Justice Center of Mandan today dismissed the case against Otto Geisler, Ray Henry, and Alex Schollert, arising out of the controversy over the alleged acts of Rev. Hubbard, pastor of the New Salem "Church of the Burning Bush."

Mrs. Lennie, the woman in the case, testified that she had always lived happily with her husband until Rev. Hubbard's advice which it is alleged broke up the family circle.

A large number of character witnesses appeared for Mrs. Lennie and the sympathy seemed to be all on her side and against Rev. Hubbard. Those concerned in the squabble were put under bond to keep the peace.

Some side-lights on the Burning Bush Church, its troubles and the unpopularity of its pastor, the Reverend Hubbard, among certain of the New Salem townspeople, were shown today in Justice Center's court at the hearing of Otto Geisler, Ray Henry and Alex Schollert, who are charged with having threatened bodily harm to the preacher and some of his more ardent membership.

Draws Crowd

A number of interested spectators were in attendance at the city hall, where the case is being tried, and showed a most marked interest in the glimpses of Burning Bush drama afforded by the testimony, than in the charges against the three boys, who are young and not particularly intimidating in appearance. States Attorney Connolly rested the case for the state this afternoon, and Major Hanley, who appears for the defendants moved a dismissal of the case on the grounds of insufficient evidence. The court, however, overruled the motion and the hearing was adjourned until ten o'clock Friday morning, when the witnesses for the defense will testify.

One, Lennie, testifying for the state, under cross-examination by the defense, admitted that he had left his wife after living with her 22 years, four children being born to them in the meantime, because according to the tenets of his present faith he considered that he was living in sin. On further questioning by Major Hanley, he naively admitted that by so doing he had saved his own soul, but that hers was unfortunately lost. "Was it not your fault that she lost her soul?" said Mr. Hanley.

"Yet, it was my fault," answered the witness. "Then can't you help her?" To which Lennie returned that no one could help her. In response to other questions along this line, he reiterated that his soul was safe, but he appeared convinced that there was no chance for that of his wife.

William Norton, a sixteen year old boy made rather a clever witness for the state, and held quite stoutly to his ground that the accused lads should not have said a loud "Amen-Gloria Hall-lehah" in the vestibule of the church, because, he said, they were only in mockery. He testified, however, that loud amens and hallelujahs were not uncommon in the Burning Bush Church, especially "at the beginning and the end." "And when do they jump?" said the defendant's attorney, but Attorney Connolly objected to this and the court sustained him.

PROUD OF CITY SAYS WINNER IN ESSAY CONTEST

Ernest Penwarden Wins First Prize Among Junior High School Students

Editor's Note.—Following is the essay by Ernest Penwarden, of the junior high school, winner of the Bismarck Town Criers essay contest among the boys and girls of the junior high school on the subject, "Bismarck, My City. What I Like About It and How I Can Improve It."

Bismarck is my home town. I was born here and have lived here all my life. I know its streets, its public buildings, and I know the great people of the city. I know good places to play ball and in general, I have a feeling that it is my duty to help this town as much as I can.

Anybody who has lived in one town all their life learns to know and like it. That is the way with me. I like it because it is the capital of North Dakota, I am proud of that also. I like it also because it has so many places of interest. For instance, its library, its capital building, its fine picture houses and its fine avenues.

But because I have this interest for the town that appeals to me, I want to do several things that can be improved in Bismarck and here are a few:

There are the capital and court house, two of the most important buildings in town yet they are not the kind of buildings they should be. They are old and poorly taken care of, when they should be fine buildings.

Then there is the detention hospital. Conditions are not what they should be, when they should be the very best.

The town should have a lot of boy clubs like they keep saying they are going to have.

There are many old buildings that spoil the looks of the town.

Bismarck should keep up its appearance and also live up to its title Bismarck, capital of North Dakota.

President of Packers' Institute
Opposed Government
Regulation

POINTS OUT HIS REASONS

Claims that Trouble is at Base
Due to Unscientific
Marketing

Washington, May 6.—Fluctuation in the livestock market are largely due to the unscientific and inefficient system employed by producers in marketing their products, and the real trouble at the base of the whole question is not so much a packers' problem as it is a producers' problem, Thomas Wilson, of Chicago, president of the Institute of American Meat Packers, told the house committee on agriculture today in opposing an opposition to the Norris-McLaughlin bill to control the packing industry.

Mr. Wilson, who said he spoke for the 200 packing companies which comprise the membership of the institute, declared legislation of the sort proposed would simply serve to divert the largest single industry in America from energetic effort to adjust itself to a changed and difficult situation. The result, he said, would be quite as harmful to the livestock producers as to the packing industry itself as so closely interwoven with that of the packers.

Commercial Club Open Forum
Luncheon Talks on "Do You Know Bismarck"

Members of the Commercial club discussed "What Do You Know About Bismarck" at an Open Forum luncheon this afternoon.

Charles Watman, of the Town Criers publicity committee in charge of the "Know Bismarck Week," spoke of the aim of the week to produce facts of real merit which in themselves would not only answer much of the fault-finding but would serve as a solid basis upon which people would "sell" Bismarck to outsiders.

President C. L. Young, of the Commercial club, praised the work of the Town Criers, and expressed the hope that the Commercial club membership would carry on the spirit of "Know Bismarck Week" in every day affairs.

Rev. R. H. Ulrich, of Fargo, superintendent for North Dakota of the Lutheran church, interested in the proposed new college to be located at Bismarck, was introduced and talked briefly to the members.

SITUATION GROWS TENSE

Reported Polish Leader Proclaims Self Head of Large Territory

Oppeln, May 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Polish insurgent forces entered Graus Stehrlitz, in central upper Silesia, 20 miles southwest of here last night. Fighting resulted in one French soldier killed and two wounded and several Italians wounded.

The Poles agreed to permit the entire and local troops in Graus Stehrlitz to remain there in the barracks. An inter-allied representative was expected here today to negotiate.

The revolt area is reported to be extending and to have reached nearly to this city. The insurgents are declared to be forcibly recruiting males, including Germans, between 16 and 45 years of age in the vicinity of Biechenau and Schoppitz.

Oppeln, Silesia, May 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two hundred Italian soldiers commanded by Colonel Bond Stehrlitz, a little over 20 miles southeast of this city, last night. At that time the town was under artillery fire from Polish insurgents. In making his report to the allied commission here, Colonel Bond, urged the necessity of sending reinforcements, laying emphasis on the need of machine guns and ammunition. The French officials here declared they were unable to furnish more soldiers saying they were short of men everywhere in the plebiscite zone.

The Poles are reported to be in possession of the entire eastern section of Silesia, which the commission heard they occupied yesterday without opposition. Fighting is still going on at Rybnik in southern Silesia.

Organizations of civil police to the number of 3,000 authorized by the allies to reinforce entire troops is contemplated here. These police would be upper Silesian Germans, it is indicated.

"Had the Germans not behaved so well, conditions would have been more serious," said one allied official.

PROCLAIMS SELF LEADER.

Warsaw, May 6.—(By the Associated Press.)—Unconfirmed reports from Sosnowice early today say that Adalbert Kofinty, former Polish plebiscite commissioner in Upper Silesia who has proclaimed himself leader of the Polish insurgents in that territory has been arrested by the inter-allied plebiscite commission together with his entire staff.

Jamestown, N. D., May 6.—An inquest was to be held this afternoon by Coroner DePuy over the body of M. J. Madden, of Sioux City, Ia., whiskey-runner, who was fatally wounded by officers south of the city yesterday.

ELKS MINSTREL "WONDER SHOW" MOVES LIVELY

Everybody Gets Spirit After Seeing Performers in Big Rehearsal

OLD AND NEW DANCES

A darky far from his Alabama home rolled off a train in Bismarck last night.

He saw a sign of the Elks Minstrels. "Huh, dese white folks can't sing no songs way coiled folks can," he ejaculated.

He was drawn like a magnet toward the Elks hall from whence floated songs of plantation days and begged admission. After a few minutes he was beaming.

"Sho' nough minstrels I see goin' to park my side-door Pullman and see 'em twice, Hot dog! Regular Alabama songs."

The first joy dispenser he saw was Dr. J. K. Blunt. The verdict was "hundred per cent and then some."

J. K. Blunt, "Joy Dispenser."

"Must come from Alabama," the darky insisted.

He went down the line. He gazed at the resplendent costumes, beautiful scenery and heard an orchestra of ten pieces playing old and new minstrelsy songs and the latest hits. His feet began to move but he kept his critical eyes, now wide open, glued on the busy director, Clint Draper, and the cast going through the nightly rehearsal. He heard an old-time minstrel song and then an up-to-date jazz piece.

"Like de jazz" he muttered, "Old time soup-goode, like de jazz too."

He gazed about the room and counted 86 members of the cast—the biggest cast, by the way that has given an Elks minstrel in Bismarck, and the cast had shouldered the biggest program ever attempted. Pretty soon, Capt. Belk, flowing whiskers, smiling countenance and a funny little quirk in his voice as he sang an old-time song, the cast stared as the performance forgot he was not at a regular performance and started to applaud.

"O! cap'n must learn dat down on levee," he remarked.

Capt. John Belk, of "Army of Fun."

The darky heard solos, trios, quartettes, chorus numbers, jokes from end men the stern voice of the interlocutor, say comedy skits and vaudeville acts. One moment the scene carried him back to the cotton fields and the next moment he saw himself in a gay vaudeville with an orchestra booming. One feature after another was shown to the bewildered onlooker.

A member of the cast, idle for the moment while other members were busy, stepped up to him. He saw the wonder that filled the on-looker's eyes and the hungry look for information. He told him the whole program.

Big parade tomorrow noon and Saturday noon through downtown streets with Elks band leading and entire minstrel cast in costume.

Big performances Friday night and Saturday night at Auditorium, starting at 8:15 P. M.

Big orchestra of ten pieces at the performance. Arthur Bauer broke up his Orpheum orchestra to permit Mrs. Bauer to take the piano and Donald McDonald the violin in the Elks' orchestra.

Tom Hall, Golden-Throated Singer.

Just then the golden-throated minstrel comedian, Tom Hall, began his jig and dance and the eager darky took his eyes from the informing Elks and cast them upon the performer. He exuded a radiant appreciation of the clever stepping and the melodious song, and grew strangely quiet.

"Me, I see goin' back to Alabama," he murmured, and then:

"Cap'n kin I git seat in de big tent."

The informing Elk explained that the show wasn't in a tent but in the "Say do you know Bismarck has the only municipal theater in North Dakota."

"Yes, sub, no sub, what I wants to know kin I git in de show."

He was informed the seat sale was large for both Friday and Saturday nights, but that he could assuredly get a seat in the show. He was warned that the serial number on the tickets for Friday night is 43 and for Saturday night is 19, and declared if all holders of tickets remembered this there would be no confusion as to the night the ticket was good for.

"Everybody's going to the big shows, I guess," remarked the Elk. Getting tickets reserved from people for miles round."

"Must be, so, Boss, must be so, Worth comin' from Alabama to see," was the darky's parting remark.

Five thousand poppies have been ordered by the post to be distributed by the ladies auxiliary of the Legion post, around the city during poppy week, commencing May 23, to be worn on Memorial day. The wearing of the flower is not limited to the members of the Legion and auxiliary, but may be worn by every American man, woman and child, who considers it a sacred obligation to pay homage to the heroes of the World War. Large poppies will be also distributed to the persons who desire to use them for decorative purposes.

State Board of Administration
Takes Action in State University Matter

Salaries of members of the faculty of the University of North Dakota, Grand Forks, will be increased from $100 to $200 in the next year, the state board of administration has decided. The salary increases will affect deans, professors, assistant professors and instructors.

The increases are based on a scale adopted sixteen months ago, limited by the appropriations of the legislature, according to members of the state board. It is estimated that under the decision of the board the salaries will be increased from 5 to 10 per cent next year, with an additional increase, not definitely fixed, for the second year of the biennial for which appropriations are made, dating from July 1, 1921. Seniority and grade rule the increases.

The board has not acted upon salaries of any other institution and the action in the case of the university may not rule other institutions, as the board is limited in its action by the available appropriations. It is stated, the increase, according to board members, was approximately half of that requested by the university board which conferred on the scale.

DEVELOPMENT OF DAIRYING BEING URGED

Max Morgan Holds Series of Meetings in Western North Dakota

Max Morgan, extension livestock specialist of the North Dakota Agricultural college has been holding a series of meetings in support of the Dairy Cow Development company plan, which he avers to be the single most important factor in the North Dakota farm of today.

On Tuesday he presided at three large meetings at Golden Valley. There was a most representative and very enthusiastic gathering of business men and farmers, who realized the value of such an enterprise to that section.

So impressed were the audience that subscriptions which had been taken to finance a bull team were unanimously voted over to the new project. Officers and directors were elected and committees have already started campaigns for further funds.

Their plan is to purchase two carloads of dairy cows—a good high grade Holstein—in Wisconsin or Minnesota, which will then be distributed to responsible farmers.

Several Aid Him.

Mr. Morgan was accompanied by H. G. Haney, superintendent of the Demonstration Farms for the International at Harvester Co. at Grand Forks, who gave several talks on diversified farming. Wednesday evening the gentlemen met with the farmers and business men of Flasher, with the same marked success. All stores were closed and the entire personnel of the Commercial club were present. The financial condition of the community generally was discussed and a belief expressed that such a plan as that suggested in the Dairy Cow Development Co. could be worked out very nicely. Several farmers offered to farm two to eight head of dairy stock apiece.

Officers Election. An investigation committee was elected and the officers of the Commercial club elected temporarily as officers for the enterprise. Another big meeting will be held by the local men within the next two weeks.

Much interest has been manifested throughout the state generally in the dairy cow idea, and at least five other counties have written the livestock extension regarding its workings.

MANDAN WILL HOLD ELECTION FOR PARK BOARD

At a regular meeting of the Mandan City Commission, Thursday, May 5th, an ordinance was passed creating a park board for the city of Mandan. The board is to consist of five members and the election for these members will be held Thursday, June 2nd.

There is no doubt but that this action on the part of the commission will meet with much approval among Mandan citizens, most of whom realize that the city's most valuable assets are the wooded parklands and river banks which lie around us on every side, and which should be secured to the people for beauty spots.

FATS CHALLENGE LEANS TO GAME

Wednesday, May 4, there was issued the following bold, not to say boastful challenge:

To the Lean: We, the well-fed, believing that in all things we have something on you, hereby challenge all you underfed, cadaverous, long, lean, lanky, skinny, meager, slender, thin, gaunt shadows of physical destitution to risk your bones in a baseball fracas to be played at the Missouri Slope fair grounds at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 8.

We include in our team none that are professional ball players and hold that there is more speed to the square inch of our noble array of well nourished players than in all your cohorts, and we can win a victory commensurate with the ratio of the square inches.

We challenge you job lot packages of skin and bones to meet us, the proceeds secured by two-bit entrance fees to purchase baseballs for the Mandan team.

Let us have answer forthwith.

Dr. R. M. Erwin, Captain.

In behalf of James McGillic, Harvey Williams, Jos. Matland, E. A. Iorribin, Tom Bear, T. J. Kasper, J. I. Rovig, George Ford, Bernie Pomperleau and Cleve Kennedy.

To the foregoing, this reply has been received:

Take Notice ye Fat Guys

Your bold, blatant, bombastic insult to the man of that section of humankind whose care has been to remain sleek and trim, shall not pass unnoticed. We who have exercised, we whose pride is in the conditioning of muscles, sinews and thoughts, accept your pompously couched challenge to play baseball at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 8, for the benefit of the baseball fund.

Thus if this is able to penetrate the layers of grossness with which your minds as well as your bodies are padded; if the adipose tissues of slothfulness and flesh have not blanketed your souls as effectively as it would seem from outward appearance, if you are able to refine to an athletic purpose the excess lubricants carried around in your beings, come out Sunday and play ball.

In behalf of the Slender Men.

Wm. J. Sullivan.

The lineup for the teams are: Babe Ruth Hanley, Wee Willie Leller Love, J. Collins Heder, John Merkle Sullivan, Pop Anson Finnegan, Ping Bodie Singletary, Christie Mathewson Lanterman, Joe Cantillon Sullivan, Ty Cobb Robertson, Mick McGraw Tobin, George Kelley Timmerman.

Mandan people are looking forward with considerable pleasure to the individual athletic efforts of the Fats and the Leans—not to mention their teamwork. The proceeds, as stated, will go to the general baseball fund.

"I'LL KNOCK OUT DEMPSEY BEFORE SIXTH ROUND," SAYS CARPENTIER

By Frank Tuckfield.

Paris, May 6.—I don't talk for my living, I fight for it.

These were Georges Carpentier's words to me as the heavyweight champion of Europe stepped out of the ring in which he had been refereeing a match.

He was wearing flannel trousers and a white shirt wide open at the neck, displaying wonderful muscular development.

"Just come to the dressing room with me," he invited. "I must change my clothes, for my wife and a party of friends are waiting to be my guests at a club. You'll pardon me?"

So while he changed to a Tuxedo I listened and he delivered himself concerning his coming voyage to America, where on July 2, he will meet Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world.

Carpentier looks out of condition, but he has not been training since he fought Joe Beckett in London.

"I'll soon get back into shape," he said, quickly noticing my physical appraisal. "I will start serious training on Long Island about the middle of June. We've bought a farm there."

"I am not taking my wife and little daughter Jacqueline with me. I am afraid the sea trip might upset the baby and my wife will not leave her even for 24 hours."

"Of course Deschamps is going with me and we are taking over Journee, the wonderful new, French heavy-weight, as a sparring partner. But I am going to rely chiefly on Joe Jeannette to help me train."

"The only thing I'm nervous about is that I must take a new cock with me."

He then explained why he is making a sacrifice that involves his chance at the world's title.

"You know Deschamps' mother always has cooked my training meals for me. But now she is going to stay home to look after my child."

With Carpentier, as well as his wife, the child seems to be the first thought. The Frenchman doesn't under-rate Dempsey.

"I fully realize," he said, "that Dempsey is the toughest adversary I ever had to encounter. He is far more aggressive than any European boxer."

"On paper he appears superior to myself. But I do not think he is my superior in science and ringcraft. I am sure he is not my superior in speed."

"I do not admit Dempsey's punch is deadlier than mine. I began to study Dempsey the day I played golf with him. This was the last time I was in the states."

"He's a fine fellow and I'm certain a clean fighter. It appeared to me when going that he easily gets rattled."

GOLD FLOWS TO UNITED STATES IN BIG SUPPLY

Unprecedented Amounts Arrive Here Due to Unsettled Economic Conditions of World

New York, May 6.—A veritable flood of gold is sweeping upon the shores of the United States.

Financiers attribute this to the fact that the United States is the world's one "creditor nation" and for the equally important reason that the other nations of the world find it well nigh impossible to transact business with this country, by reason of their own depreciated currency.

The precious metal is coming from all quarters of the globe, but the European countries, more particularly Great Britain and France, as well as the Scandinavian nations, are paying heaviest toll.

Much of the gold received from England represents shipments from South Africa to London, while the French and other consignments back to the days of the war and in some instances to much longer periods.

For example, Sweden is sending gold received from Germany for war supplies; also, bar gold or bullion which many believe to be of Russian origin. By way of the Pacific have come occasional shipments of gold from Siberia where they formed part of General Kolchak's war chest.

South America and Central America also are making involuntary contributions to this country's vast holdings of the yellow metal, mainly because

Do You Know a Baby Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

NO thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are ever without it.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

unsettled economic conditions in Latin America virtually preclude any other form of payment to this country.

The local Assay Office, a new structure, whose modern equipment includes huge vaults five floors below the street level, now holds upward of $1,000,000, fully one-third of which has come from foreign countries.

The machinery of the Assay Office here is working at high pressure in an effort to reduce and refine the foreign bullion and coin. Reports that large quantities of the gold are being shipped to the Philadelphia mint lack official confirmation.

Commenting on this inflow, which some bankers have viewed with apprehension, George E. Roberts, a vice-president of the National City bank and for four years Director of the United States Mint, is quoted as saying:

"It is natural that the people of Europe should be sending us their gold. Everybody, everywhere, owes us money. The easiest way for them to pay, if they can, is in gold."

Daily Fashion Hint

FIFTY CENTURIES AGO

About five thousand years ago men first began to cover up the thatch nature gave to protect heads. Then no thought was wasted on style and quality.

Today a good hat like the Gordon represents much thought and many operations by skilled artisans. The selection, assorting and blending of the fine furs that form the body of that hat—the forming of the hat from the first crude shaping on through the kneading, reshaping, dyeing, blocking, curling, finishing, trimming—each process requiring expert care.

Yes, indeed! The small amount you pay for a Gordon gets you the accumulated experience of fifty centuries.

Some corking new ideas are shown in the Gordon models this season.

VERY MODISH SERGE

Because the coming and going of new materials affect not its popularity, serge asserts itself for almost any occasion where fashion and service meet. Here, it fashions an unusually good-looking frock in straight line effect. To the long-waisted blouse with long sleeves and turn-back collar is added a four-piece tunic, stitched with narrow black silk braid. If preferred, the collar may be faced with a contrasting color. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 34-inch material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 9071. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

RED CROSS CLINIC IN BILLINGS

The Billings County Herald gives an excellent account of work done among the children of Billings county. The Herald states that there is not a resident physician in Billings county, neither is there a resident dentist in the county. Through the activity of Miss Norma Tibbitts, the welfare worker placed in Billings county recently through the efforts of Miss Henrietta J. Lund, a Red Cross Medical Clinic was held in Billings county, continuing from Monday, April 25 to Friday, April 29. Five hundred children were given medical examination by Dr. L. A. Schipper of Billings, a skilled specialist in diseases of the eye, ear and nose. Clinics were held in five different places in the county—at Medora, Fryberg, Snow, the Truelsen school, and Gorman. Dr. Schipper gave to the work a week of his time and service with his assistant, Miss Isabel Nichols, and for part of the time Miss Daisy Welch, staff nurse for Dr. Schipper's Bismarck offices. Miss Ruth Koling, Red Cross Social Worker for Burleigh county, gladly helped through the week, and Miss Norma Tibbitts did all possible to see the consummation of the work toward which she has been directing her efforts for months.

When the workers went to Dickinson on Thursday they found such ready cooperation that the heavy task of performing 77 operations became a gratifying achievement. Dickinson physicians postponed their operations scheduled for that day, and St. Joseph's hospital with its excellent facilities, was given over for the time to this work of good will. The Red Cross workers were especially of the sisters at the hospital who cheerfully accepted the additional tasks and tenderly cared for the large number of children placed in every available place in the hospital. "The sisters were wonderfully helpful," the Red Cross workers declared, and they added that the "hospital charges were practically nothing." The teachers and school boards of the county, together with the county commissioners, paid one-half the light expenses of the big clinic. Dr. Schipper and his staff of helpers coming in for less than their expenses.

The clinic of the week also made apparent the need of a dental clinic in Billings county. Dr. Strangberg, who was in charge of Oral Hygiene work in the county, asked the county superintendent and teachers for assistance in the tooth brush campaign and a dental clinic will probably be put on, May 14 and 15.

Miss Mary Hartung, welfare worker, with Mrs. Sanders and Mrs. Bailey, members of the executive committee for Dunn county, attended the clinic at Medora for the purpose of getting help for baby welfare week in Dunn county.

Miss Tibbitts states that "Dr. Schipper can never be paid and can never be sufficiently thanked for his services—it was a wonderful work." A like tribute may be paid Miss Tibbitts and all her willing helpers in the week's effort for the good of the children of Billings county.

Former service men may get the handsome medal by mailing their discharge papers to the Victory Medal department of the Adjutant-General's office.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

THE AMERICAN ARMY ON THE RHINE

That was a fine compliment the chief of staff of the Swiss army paid the American army on the Rhine. After a visit to the occupied zone, in which he made a thorough inspection of all the armies—British, French, Belgian and American—he reported to his government that the Americans "were the most up-to-date, the best-equipped and the best-looking military outfit of all the armies of the world."

That is high praise, considering the expertness of the source. For while the Swiss are not in any sense of the word a military nation, their citizen army, always ready to defend the nation's neutrality, has for years challenged the world's admiration.

What the Swiss chief of staff says about the American army on the Rhine is borne out by the reports of other critical and disinterested observers.

A commission from Holland expressed a similar view and other nations have asked permission to send commissions to look over the Americans.

Architects say that the world's most beautiful bank building is in Owatona, Minn. This must make New York drummers foam at the mouth.

YOUR DOLLAR

Uncle Sam's hundred and five million children spent about fifty billion dollars a year for living. Before it hit the forty billion mark they stopped calling it Cost of Living and referred to it as HIGH Cost of Living.

The cost of living is divided generally into six items.

These items and the number of cents in each H. C. L. dollar that goes into each item are as follows: Food, 38 cents; clothing, 17 cents; rent (for housing), 12 1/2 cents; furniture, etc., 5 cents; fuel, etc., 5 cents; and the balance, which includes doctor bills, street car fare, amusements, insurance, church, etc., 21 cents.

The food dollar—and there is one food dollar in each two and one-half H. C. L. dollars—is interesting. It is split up something like this: 51 cents goes for meat and the other 49 cents for all other articles of diet.

Going into more detail, each food dollar is spent: 32 cents for pork and 19 cents for beef, or a total of 51 cents; 11 cents for bread, grains and cereals; 17 cents for milk, butter and cheese; 11 cents for eggs and poultry; 6 cents for sugar and 4 cents for vegetables.

Women are voting, and the home is as attractive as ever. Page the gent who feared that giving women the ballot would destroy the home.

THE TRUTH ABOUT THE TREATY

Another five-foot shelf of books has been suggested.

It will be made up entirely of volumes under the general title, "Truth About the Peace Treaty."

The suggestion is not bad, except that the shelf ought to be capable of extension to an indefinite length, judging by the rapidity with which the peace treaty literature is coming from the presses.

During the treaty negotiations, and for some time after, the world was led to believe that the only way men who knew what was going on at Paris were the Big Four—Wilson, George, Clemenceau and Orlando.

Nearly everybody else disclaimed all responsibility for the famous or infamous document on the ground that all of the important decisions upon which it was based were arrived at in Big Four secrecy.

Now it seems as though, despite the much advertised secrecy, about everybody who was in or near Paris in those hectic days considers himself qualified to tell "the truth about the treaty."

Naturally, each one has a different "truth" to tell, depending on his nationality and what he wants to prove.

Having read all of the "truths" up to now, we feel that we know less about what really happened than before we read any of them.

Incidentally, it is to be noted that the four men who really know what the truth is have not taken their pens in hand to tell it.

If and when they do, it will be worth reading, which is more than can be said of most of the "truths" by self-appointed "truth" tellers.

Probably the most worth while of the "truths" is the latest one by Andre Tardieu, who, several times.

But about the best that can be said of his "Truth About the Treaty" is that it is not as unconvincing and inadequate as the others.

YOUR ROAD TO FAME

Will you be famous in Bismarck 27 years after you die? Why not? Consider the case of Thomas Smith Jefferys, born in the 27th and 28th and 29th streets, is being observed with much honor at York, S. C.

Did Jefferys write a great book? Or paint a famous picture? Or make a career in politics? Not much. All he did was invent a simple little device.

Jefferys got his Golden Idea in 1852, when South Carolina was one of the leading wheat states, just as it now ranks high in cotton.

In those days, flour was always shipped in barrels. No one had ever thought of using sacks. Jefferys was a flour miller. A big order came in one day when there was a shortage of coopers and he couldn't get barrels.

Did Jefferys hold up shipment? He did not. He bought cotton sheeting and had his wife make flour sacks.

Jefferys was the first man to ship flour in a sack instead of barrels. That saved money. It made him rich. His idea was adopted all over the country. Today, long after his passing, he is famous all through the milling trade and in his home town.

The world needs more simple and helpful ideas, such as using sacks instead of barrels for shipping flour. If you can think up anything that will save work and money in producing or distributing goods, you—like Jefferys—can disprove that saying that "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

It may not bring you national fame. But it will assure you of an honorable and lasting standing in your home town—Bismarck. And, after all, that is the finest kind of fame.

Most of the firms reported among "business failures" never were anything else.

TOO MANY TENANTS

It has been contended for many years that the future prosperity of the state depended upon the larger farms being cut up into smaller tracts and these tracts be acquired by men of small means, but the increase in tenantry would indicate that this is not being done and the man who desires to farm must of necessity be compelled to rent, as he is unable to finance the purchase of a large tract. The argument of more land owners bringing more prosperity to the state is a sound one and herein lies the food for thought in the great increase in the number of those renting farms.—New Rockford Transcript.

CHINA AND THE CHURCHES

More than $3,000,000 has been given to the starving Chinese by the American churches. The church is decadent, we are told, but the first thought of any one who represents some pressing public need is to enlist the church's strength. "Why Smith Doesn't Attend Church" is an inexhaustible theme for magazine symposia, but men who want to interest Smith in China or Poland do not rest until the churches call a Save China Sunday or Help Poland Sunday. Materialism is supposed to be corroding the fine self-abnegation of an earlier day. But after the church treasurers stand up and show that home missions, foreign missions, freedmen's aid societies, children's societies, temperance boards, Bible funds, and a dozen other activities survive and grow, there comes a long list of a movement like that of the $3,000,000 gift to China. The Christian denominations, with 12,000,000 members, are the greatest single group of organizations in America. Their membership includes in nearly all communities the most public-spirited and benevolent citizenship. Whatever the perils threatening church strength, the churches still play a notable role in altruistic endeavors.

The churches cannot be left to save China alone. What they have done should be a stimulus to other organizations and to those not church members. Our commercial clubs, our fraternal organizations, our special groups of a hundred kinds, and above all, our citizens as individuals, should join in raising the fund to a figure that will assure the starving Chinese of rescue.—New York Evening Post.

BIG CAST OF ELKS MINSTREL SHOW READY TO DISPENSE "PEP" AND JOY AT THE AUDITORIUM

Frank Gale and Bob Neff, graduates of the correspondence school for dancing.

Jim Taylor, singer, comedian and expert on the Tamborine.

T. J. Van Arsdale, "The Party From the South," at the Elks Minstrel.

The final rehearsal for the Elks minstrel show held at the Auditorium last night and now everything is in readiness for the opening performance tonight when the cream of Bismarck's talent will present one of the fastest and snappiest minstrel shows ever seen in this part of the country.

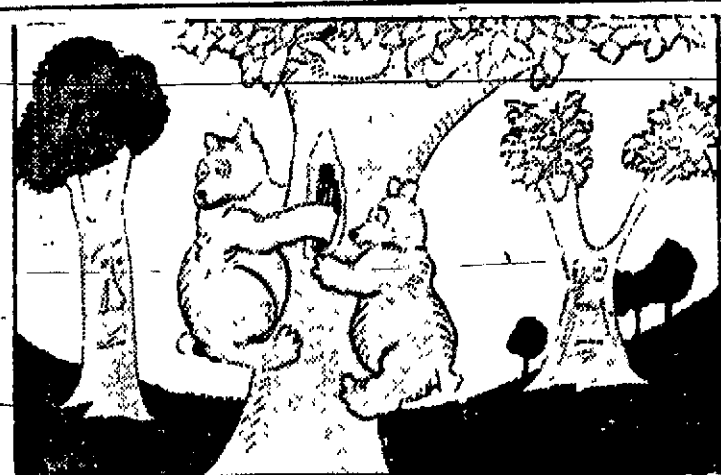

The big orchestra under the direction of Donald McDonald gave the performance the finishing touch and inspired the soloists and chorus to put forth their very best efforts in a manner that was most gratifying. One of the hits of the show will be the singing of the "Night Hawk Trio," composed of Paul Williams, "Scotty" McClellan and E. J.

Reid; they present some splendid harmony effects and the numbers they sing are especially catchy. The comedians are doing great work with their songs and jokes and they are infusing a great deal of local interest in what they have to say, and with an interlocutor like Sam H. Clark to provide over the festivities, this part of the entertainment promises to be decidedly interesting. A most pleasing feature will be the singing of the "Bismarck Quartette."

Henry Halversen, George Humphreys, Sherman Wright and H. H. Ferner, who will appear in the vaudeville part of the program in addition to having solo numbers in the last act. A comedy number which is a novelty will be the song, "That Wonderful Kid From Madrid," as presented by Mr. T. J. Van Arsdale, who is a true delineator of the southern negro. There are still some good seats left but you will have to hurry if you expect to see the big show of the season.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

The bear boys soon reached the place.

Up the button-ball tree shinned Butter-Ball Brown Bear and Billy-Bunch Brown Bear, while their parents waited below.

Back in the hole under the great oak where the bears lived, Flippety-Flap and Nancy and Niek waited patiently, wondering what in creation had become of the missing family. You know and I know, but land alive! how could the visitors know?

"I'll keep the bees away if they come," called Mr. Bruin encouragingly to his sons. "Now called down Billy-Bunch and Billy-Bunch, he knew that bees, once they take a notion, are pretty hard to keep away. "Oh, I'll tell 'em a story!" said Mr. Bruin, giggling at his own joke. "Ugh!" exclaimed Billy-Bunch in disgust. He didn't like to be fooled. Up he skeddaddled again to catch his brother.

The bear boys soon reached the place where the trickily stuff was, and stopped to taste it, holding on by their long toe-nails, in the bark below. But do you know, children, a button-ball tree has such smooth bark (all patchy, white and brown) that I don't see how they did it.

"Hurry up!" urged their daddy from below. "Yes, we're hurrying," answered Butter-Ball, sticking his hand into a great round hole and feeling round. "M-m-m-m!" he exclaimed to Billy-Bunch. "It's just full of honey! I can feel it fine, all cozy and sticky. Let's just have one nibble before we take down Mama's breakfast. She won't care."

"All right," answered Billy-Bunch wiggling his nose. "Dish me out a handful." "Hi there!" called up Bruin suspiciously. "What are you two doing?" "Just finding out if it's good enough for Mama," called down Butter-Ball. "We don't want to take her sour honey. We're tasting it."

MOTHER

BY DR. FRANK CRANE
She is my mother, said the young man, but I call her my baby. Old people are very much like babies, and we ought to love them, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven.

I have an idea Mr. Evans up things. When I was young and helpless she took care of me; now I take care of her. I am paying my debt. She never left me alone when I was an infant. Now I do not leave her alone.

She was patient with me then now I am patient with her. She fed me; now I feed her. I clothe and keep her. She sacrificed her young life for me; I am glad of every chance I have to sacrifice for her.

She loved me when I was ignorant, awkward, needing constant care, and all because I was hers, born of her body and part of her soul. Now every feebleness and trait of childishness in her endears her to me, for no other reason except that she is my mother. But as much as she is a tax on my time, attention and money, I love her. She shall not triumph over me in the day of judgment, for my tenderness shall equal hers.

She watched with me until I grew up; I shall watch with her until she steps into Heaven.

AT THE MOVIES

POWERFUL CURWOOD STORY UNFOLDED IN "KAZAN"

The attraction at the Eltinge theater tonight, will be "Kazan," a photodrama described as "extraordinary" from the pen of James Oliver Curwood, an author who won undying fame for his "Back to God's Country" and "The River's End" and "Nomads of the North." This product of the Curwood knowledge of the Far North and of natural history is being presented by George H. Hamilton. The title used is the same as his remarkable tale of the great wolf-dog known as "Kazan the Killer" and the story has to do with a gripping tragedy and a love affair which wander through many nooks and corners of a North ern Wilderness, little known to man.

Is Green No More

My experience with your medicine has been wonderful. My stomach and liver trouble of five years standing took a new turn two years ago when I took an olive green complexion I spent $100 with doctors and specialists only to prove that I was still as green as ever. A friend advised me to take Mother's Wonderful Kidney and Liver Pills. My stomach and liver trouble has all disappeared. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the harmful mucus from the intestinal tract and allows the in ternal organs to function practically all stomach and liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Sold at All Drugists.

POETS' CORNER

THE "CRAZY" QUILT

(By Florence Borne)
Scraps of silk of various hues,
Greens and purples, reds and blues,
Cut in many curious shapes,
Scraps from dresses, skirts and waists,
Everything that could be found,
In the homes for miles around,
Piece by piece were cut and built
To form the old-time "crazy" quilt.

Smiles and laughter, tears and pain,
Sun and shadow, wind and rain,
Blending in their colors here;
Wedding wreath and funeral bier;
In these colors we can see,
Life and love and tragedy;
Each a treasure of the soul,
And each a measure of the whole.

TO THE PRAIRIES

(By Florence Borne)
Roll on, oh ye prairies, so boundless
And free,
From towering mountain to turbulent
sea,
I gaze on thy beauties as untouched
by man,
As they were on the morn when creation began.

Here is room for the millions that suffer for bread,
Here is the food for the nations that now must be fed;
Here is health, hope and beauty, a home for oppressed,
And when they're grown weary, a solace for rest.

Blow on, oh ye zephyrs, from skies
blue and clear,
And speak of the beauties awaiting
Man here,
Tell him of the prairies in green garments dressed,
And he'll rally at once to the call of the West.

REV. SEEMANN GIVES TANLAC ENDORSEMENT

Well Known Minister Feels It Duty to Tell Others How Tanlac

Restored Him

It is seldom indeed that men of prominence, especially ministers of the Gospel, willingly express their indebtedness openly to a proprietary medicine. However, when a medicine obtains a kind of uniform purity and efficiency that is shown by the well-known preparation, Tanlac, statements from our best citizens are to be considered thoroughly commensurate with the good that is actually being accomplished.

Rev. L. C. Seemann, of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, whose address is Fessenden, R. F. D., Wells County, North Dakota, prominent not only as a minister of the Gospel, but who is popular as a man and a citizen who has been true to his friends and to every trust imposed in him, said in speaking of his experience with the medicine:

"I had a bad form of stomach trouble for three years and was much discouraged, as the treatments I tried did not help me. My appetite was poor and the little I ate gave me great discomfort afterwards. My back hurt a good deal, too, I was nervous and losing vitality right along."

"I didn't even get much help at first from Tanlac, but, fortunately, I persevered and the good results have been far beyond my expectations. I eat what I please now and am never troubled with indigestion; I sleep better than I have in years and, in fact, feel quite like a different man than I did before taking this remarkable medicine. I believe it is my duty to tell this experience of mine, as I know there are many who are in need of just such a medicine as Tanlac proved itself to be in my case."

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by N. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Homan, in Strasburg by Strasburg Drug Co., and in Regan by Stratton & Earp.
